

DANIEL JERVEY

ASSISTANT FLAG FOOTBALL COACH

Coach Daniel Jervy is a Middle and High School Physical Education teacher and Assistant Middle School Flag Football Coach at Jacksonville Classical Academy. Daniel has several years of youth coaching experience in the Jacksonville area, coaching baseball, tackle football, and flag football across multiple age groups. Through coaching different sports, he has gained experience working with young athletes at different skill levels and helping them develop the fundamentals needed to compete and improve.

Daniel earned his bachelor's degree in Business Administration from American Military University and is currently pursuing his master's degree in Curriculum and Instruction at American Military University. His background in coaching and physical education has allowed him to continue building his knowledge of athletics, fitness, and athlete development.

Coach Jervy believes in creating an environment where athletes are expected to work hard, compete, and continue getting better each day. He places an emphasis on teaching fundamentals and helping players understand the game instead of simply going through drills or plays. He wants his athletes to know why they are doing something and how it translates to success on the field.

Daniel also believes some of the best lessons in sports come from facing adversity. Winning is always the goal when you compete, but learning how to respond to mistakes, losses, and difficult situations is just as important. He wants his athletes to be confident, coachable, competitive, and willing to put in the work necessary to improve.

Most importantly, Coach Jervy wants his players to enjoy being part of the team and develop a genuine love for competing. His goal is to help build athletes who play hard, play for one another, and leave each season better than when they started.
